Maryam Rahnemoonfar received her Ph.D. degree in Computer Science from University of Salford, Manchester, UK, 2010. She received her M.S. degree in Remote Sensing Engineering from University of Tehran in 2005 and B.S. degree in Civil Engineering-Geomatics from University of Isfahan in 2002. Since 2014 she has been an Assistant Professor of Computer Science in the School of Engineering and Computing Sciences, Texas A&M UniversityCorpus Christi. Before joining tamucc, she was a visiting scholar in Data to Insight Center, Indiana University in 2013 and Assistant Professor in Isfahan University, 2011-2012.