Covering Letter:

I am Dr. Yasser Shaker El-Saharty, associate professor of Analytical Chemistry, Faculty of pharmacy, Cairo University.

I have got a master in pharmaceutical analysis and Ph.D. in food analysis. The practical part of my Ph.D. work was done in Germany, where I have one international patent. In 2002, I finished a postdoctoral DAAD grant in Germany. I have been finished a review article entitled "Detection of lard in food and drug preparation".

My research work is concerned with analysis of foods and drugs using different analytical techniques such as GC, GCO, GC-MS, HPLC and LC-MS. In addition, I am also working with different spectrophotometric methods including atomic absorption.

I am also responsible for the bioequivalence studies, analysis and writing the validation report, using the biostatistical software such as SAS version 8 and Winnonlin version 1.1, at the Egyptian Company for research and development. I have also worked as QC & QA in Pharmaceuticals, Cosmetics and Food companies in Egypt.

I have also worked in sales and marketing of pharmaceuticals in Saudi Arabia, United Arab Emirates and other Middle East region with Bristol-Myers Squibb as a product manager for 6 years.

I am looking for a suitable job.

Work Eligibility: No, I am not currently in possession of a US work permit.
